Bring Your "A" Game to Work & Life!

Realtor's Rap

When I was young I dreamt I'd be
A realtor so that I could look and see
The perfect houses, make the perfect match
The perfect client, the perfect catch

I'd make my own hours, be my own boss
Make loads of money, have lots of days off
I'd be a top producer, bring my 'A' game
Never be bored, no 2 days the same

Little did I know then the toll it'd take
After years of being on call with no break
I serve my clients both day and night
Smiling throughout like every things alright

But year after year I see death and divorce
And people buying their first home of course
Some are happy, some are sad
All need my skills, I give all I have.

Sometimes I wonder who's looking out for me
Not the bankers or the lawyers, that's crazy
Guess if I want to really succeed
I need to support, not follow but lead

I'll go first and take care of myself
Find balance, be happy 'cause no one else
Has to spend as much time with me
I may as well be happy and healthy.

Dream big, start small - use Kaizen
Attach it to a cue and in the end
Realtors round town, we'll make a pack
We'll put ourselves first and do the Realtor's Rap
