Bring Your "A" Game to Work & Life!

A champion, a companion, a friend to the end
Hospital volunteers don't break, you bend
You give your time, and your talents too
You bring your gifts to share, yes it's true

Your smiling faces shine down the wards
You make patients feel happy and feel less bored
You come in sleet, in rain, in snow
You come even though it's 40 below

You don't get a penny for the work you do
Helping the hospital run and the patients pull through
In the lab, in the chapel, in day surgery
Front lobby, reception and in Hip & Knee

Where ever you lend your helping hands
We thank you, we love you, we think your grand
Know your rewards come in a different way
Your heart gets bigger every day

So thank you Hospital Volunteers
For countless hours and countless years
The love you show multiples by 10
You're a champion, companion, friend to the end
